During the past 12 weeks, smallpox incidence has fallen sharply— from a peak of 1 296 cases recorded during the last week of April to a low of 113 cases recorded in mid-July (Table 1). The numbers of cases now being detected weekly are by far the lowest ever reported to the Organization. The only two countries to have reported cases during the past eight weeks are Bangladesh and Ethiopia, and in both countries the numbers of cases being detected each week are steadily declining.

More than ten weeks have now elapsed since the discovery of the last case of smallpox in India. An intensive search by national and international staff has been conducted throughout the country and especially in states and union territories bordering Bangladesh. Despite the offer of a 1 000 Rupee reward (US $120) to anyone reporting a case of smallpox, no further cases have been discovered. Although India is now believed to be smallpox-free (Fig. 1), an active surveillance programme is continuing which will be supplemented by repeat nation-wide house by house searches in October and December, immediately before the advent of the usual smallpox season. With this plan, it is anticipated that any lingering remote foci due to indigenous spread or due to importation from Bangladesh will be detected before the period when smallpox transmission is most rapid.

Au cours de ces 12 dernières semaines, l'incidence de la variole s'est abaissée fortement, passant d'un maximum de 1 296 cas dans la dernière semaine d'avril à un minimum de 113 cas à la mi-juillet (Tableau 1). L'incidence hebdomadaire actuellement enregistrée n'en demeure pas moins la plus faible qui ait jamais été signalée à l'Organisation. Seuls le Bangladesh et l'Éthiopie ont signalé des cas au cours des huit dernières semaines et, dans ces deux pays, le total hebdomadaire diminue régulièrement.

Plus de dix semaines se sont maintenant écoulées depuis la découverte du dernier cas de variole en Inde. Un personnel national et international a entrepris des recherches intensives dans tout le pays, notamment dans les Etats et territoires qui bordent le Bangladesh; or, malgré l'offre d'une récompense de 1 000 roupies (US $120) à quiconque notifie un cas de variole, aucun autre cas n'a été découvert. L'Inde est donc maintenant considérée comme exempte de variole (Fig. 1), mais elle poursuit néanmoins l'exécution d'un programme actif de surveillance qui sera complété en octobre et en décembre, soit immédiatement avant le début habituel de la saison variolique, par de nouvelles opérations de recherche des cas, maison par maison, à l'échelon national. Ces activités devront permettre de déceler, avant que la transmission de la variole n'atteigne son rythme maximal, tout foyer variolique indigène ou importé du Bangladesh qui pourrait subsister dans des régions écartées.

The remarkable change in the smallpox situation in Asia during the past 12 months is illustrated by the data in Table 2 which shows the reported cases of smallpox during July 1974 and July 1975. Only one year ago, a total of 22 809 cases were reported from four countries—India, Pakistan, Nepal and Bangladesh. During July 1975, only 408 cases were reported, all of which occurred in Bangladesh. As depicted in Figure 2, the remaining infected area is now very limited and is shrinking rapidly.

L'évolution remarquable de la situation de la variole en Asie au cours de ces 12 derniers mois est illustrée par le Tableau 2 qui indique les cas de variole signalés en juillet 1974 et en juillet 1975. Il y a seulement un an, un total de 22 809 cas était notifié par quatre pays: l'Inde, le Pakistan, le Népal et le Bangladesh mais en juillet 1975, 408 cas seulement ont été signalés, et tous au Bangladesh. Comme le montre la Figure 2, la zone encore infectée est maintenant très réduite et diminue rapidement.

Progress in the programme in Bangladesh continues to accelerate as national and international staff deal with an ever diminishing number of outbreaks and at a time of year when the rate of smallpox transmission is at its lowest ebb. The number of smallpox infected villages in Bangladesh reached a peak at the end of April (week 18). At that time there were 1 780 active cases and 1 280 infected villages. As of 2 August, 13 weeks later, there were only 47 active cases and 131 infected villages in the entire country. With a more and more intensive surveillance programme and with the rigid containment measures being taken whenever cases are found, it would seem reasonable to expect the interruption of smallpox transmission in Bangladesh within the next six to eight weeks.

In Ethiopia, the only other presently endemic country, there were 117 infected villages in 13 different locations as of 2 August. Of this total, 86 (74%) were in the province of Gojam, all occurring within an area of 130 by 200 kilometres. Except in Gojam, the helicopter-supported programme of surveillance and containment has made excellent progress with interruption of smallpox transmission now believed possible within the next eight weeks. However, in Gojam civil disorder prevented activities in a number of areas for the past several months. Searching for cases in many of these areas has been possible only in recent weeks. As anticipated, additional outbreaks have been discovered. Transmission of smallpox among the scattered villages and hamlets of this remote mountainous area is closely associated with marriage parties which usually conclude in late May but, this year, these continued through June, having been postponed because of a very late religious fasting period.

On 18 July, the Ministry of Health of Ethiopia decided to embark upon a further intensified smallpox programme in hopes of interrupting transmission by end November when population movement again increases and smallpox transmission is more rapid. transmission de la variole s'accélère. Un effectif additionnel d'agents de santé, de techniciens de l'assainissement et de personnel international sera affecté à ce programme au cours des six prochains mois et, dans l'ensemble du pays, on demandera à des groupes d'étudiants de participer au dépistage des cas et aux activités de vaccination.

SMALLPOX: COUNT DOWN

► The global programme of smallpox eradication has reached the point that progress is now monitored in terms of the number of "infected villages" in each area. A village is considered infected until six weeks have elapsed since onset of rash of the last case and until a special search is made to confirm that no further cases have occurred. Current data are presented below with a comparison of the situation four weeks previously:

VARIOLE: LE COMPTE À REBOURS

► Le programme mondial d'éradication de la variole a maintenant atteint le stade où les progrès sont exprimés par le nombre de «villages infectés» dans chaque zone. On considère qu'un village est infecté pendant les six semaines qui suivent l'apparition des éruptions et tant qu'une enquête n'a pas établi l'absence de tout nouveau cas. Le Tableau ci-dessus donne les informations les plus récentes avec, en regard, les chiffres enregistrés quatre semaines auparavant.
